

I'm Jessie, an LA-Based food blogger with a genuine passion for going on eating adventures, sharing restaurant driven stories, and using food as a through-line for travel. My sincere passion coupled with an authentic approach has grown a loyal following of over 28,000 and growing, including some of LA's best chefs and food critics (LATimes, TimeoutLA, Food & Wine.) I continue to use my entertainment background as an actor to entertain & tell stories through the lens of food.
